Crime gang Brit seized in Barcelona

A BRITON has been arrested in Barcelona as part of an investigation into a dispute between two crime gangs in Salford.

Jamie Rothwell, 33, was arrested by Spanish police officers at an apartment block on Sunday morning.

Rothwell (above) has been wanted for questioning by Greater Manchester Police for seven months over allegedly conspiring to murder two men.

A European Arrest Warrant was issued in October for his detention on suspicion of conspiracy to murder and conspiracy to commit grievous bodily harm.

National Crime Agency investigators and international liaison officers in Spain traced Rothwell.

He was remanded in custody by a Spanish court on Monday and faces extradition.

Balcony shooter on firearms charges

A RECORD label boss has denied charges after shots were fired off a high-rise balcony in Kent.

Armed cops and a police helicopter were scrambled in April after a man was spotted on a balcony in Chatham.

The firearms officers were deployed near a shopping centre.

Nigerian Michael Alunomoh, 33, appeared at Maidstone Crown Court and denied three charges of possessing an imitation firearm with intent to cause fear of violence in relation to three weapons: two imitation handguns and an imitation assault rifle.

He was remanded in custody.

THANKS COCK... Matt Hancock (above) is quiz show winner

MATT HANCOCK IS GREAT FOR OUR RATINGS!

EMBATTLED Matt Hancock does have some fans – production bosses at TV show Pointless.

The popular quiz show has enjoyed a boost in ratings as a result of the coronavirus crisis, with more viewers tuning in if the daily briefing – which airs at the same time – is fronted by Health Secretary Mr Hancock.

The popularity of each Tory figurehead determines how many people tune in to the show, which airs on BBC2 at 5.15pm while the briefing is taking place on BBC1.

According to Richard Osman, who created the show, ratings increase if Mr Hancock fronts the live Q&A, only to dip if popular Chancellor of the Exchequer Rishi Sunak takes the reins.

He said: "Pointless is definitely getting a new audience, although we're up against Boris Johnson or Matt Hancock sometimes.

"If it's Matt Hancock, our ratings shoot up. But when it's Rishi Sunak, we're in trouble. He's very much the Bradley Walsh of the Cabinet."

Pointless* host Alexander Armstrong told the Radio Times: "We're spending an awful lot of time inside our heads.

"For some people, that's a nice place to be – and for some, it's a very difficult place to be.

"A quiz show distracts you. You can't be worrying as much if you're trying to think of an African country."

MINISTER FOR WINDFARMS QUITS OVER CUMGATE

I'M OUT: Douglas Ross has resigned over Mr Cummings' (inset) trip

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A JUNIOR Scottish Office minister with special responsibility for windfarms has resigned after Dominic Cummings' defence of his trip to County Durham during the coronavirus lockdown.

Douglas Ross, Under Secretary of State for Scotland, said the senior aide's view of government guidance was "not shared by the vast majority of people".

Mr Cummings explained why he drove 260 miles in March from his home to his parents' farm with his wife and child – sparking a row that has been nicknamed Cumgate by Twitter wags.

No 10 said Prime Minister Boris Johnson regretted Mr Ross's decision to stand down.

In a statement announcing his resignation, Mr Ross, MP for Moray, said: "While the intentions may have been well meaning, the reaction to this news shows that Mr Cummings' interpretation of the government advice was not shared by the vast majority of people who have done as the government asked.

"I have constituents who didn't get to say goodbye to loved ones; families who could not mourn together; people who didn't visit sick relatives because they followed the guidance of the government.

"I cannot in good faith tell them they were all wrong and one senior adviser to the government was right."

Problems

Mr Cummings has faced calls to resign after it emerged he had driven his child and ill wife from London to County Durham during lockdown.

At a news conference in the garden of 10 Downing Street on Monday afternoon, he said he did not regret his actions and believed he acted reasonably and legally.

Asked why he then drove his family to Barnard Castle 15 days after he had displayed symptoms, Mr Cummings said he was testing his eyesight to see if he could make the trip back to London after he had experienced some eyesight problems during his illness.

Cabinet Office Minister Michael Gove has said Mr Cummings' account was "exhaustive, detailed and verifiable" and "people will make their own mind up".

Boris Johnson has said he regrets the "confusion and anger" caused by the row.

But he has continued to back Mr Cummings.

June 15 will be 'welcome back' for shoppers

THE government has unveiled its full list of retailers that can reopen under new guidelines – with fashion stores, betting shops and charity stores all allowed to welcome customers from June 15.

Gift shops in museums, retail spaces in theatres, libraries, heritage sites and tourism sites will also be allowed to open – paving the way for visitors to return to tourist hotspots.

But ministers were keen to stress the date could change if reductions in coronavirus infections fail to meet expectations.

Minister for the Cabinet Office Michael Gove (above) said shoppers would need to "exercise restraint" by not trying on clothing and testing goods ahead of purchase.

He told BBC Breakfast on Tuesday: "It's also the case that we need to ensure that some of the shopping habits people may have grown used to in the pre-Covid days are habits that we exercise a degree of restraint on."

McLaren set to axe 1,200 jobs

SUPERCAR maker McLaren Group has announced that 1,200 jobs will be lost across its operations, representing around a quarter of its workforce.

The Surrey-based firm said in a statement that it has been "severely affected by the current pandemic".

It went on: "The cancellation of motorsport events, the suspension of manufacturing and retail activities around the world and reduced demand for technology solutions have all led to a sudden impact on the group's revenue-generating activities."

McLaren said the new annual spending cap for Formula One teams also played some part in the job losses.

'MISSED CHANCE' TO PROTECT MURDERED BOY

A CHANCE to protect a 14-year-old boy from drugs gangs was missed when he was found in a crack den three months before he died, a report has found.

Jaden Moodie (left) was murdered when he was knocked off a scooter and stabbed nine times in Leyton, east London, on January 8 last year.

A Serious Case Review published on Tuesday found that he had been groomed by criminal gangs for at least a year before he died.

In October 2018 he was arrested after being found at a flat in Bournemouth with 39 wraps of crack cocaine, two packages of the class A drug and £325 in cash.

His appropriate adult during police interview said he appeared to be "a vulnerable young person frightened by what he was being groomed and coerced into by others".

His mother, Jada Bailey, was contacted to go and collect him, but she can't drive.

No-one was available from Waltham Forest Council to make the journey, so two cops drove Jaden home.

The review found that this was a "missed opportunity".

However, it concluded that his murder could not have been anticipated.

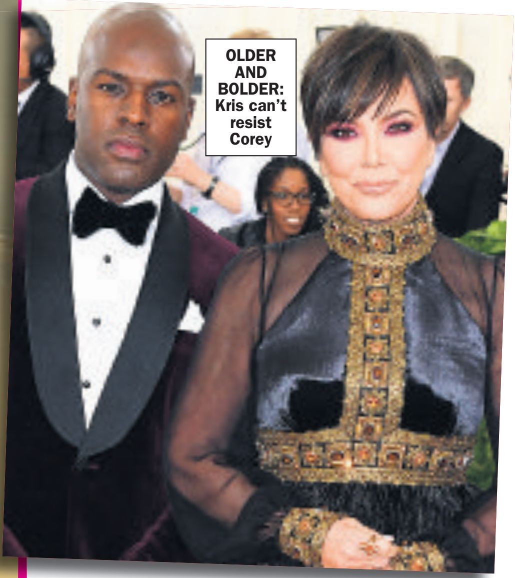
KRIS K: I'M ALWAYS UP FOR SEX!



OLDER AND BOLDER: Kris can't resist Corey

KEEPING Up with the Kardashians* star Kris Jenner may be 64 – but she's still frothing at the gash when it comes to SEX.

Even though daughters Kourtney, Kim, Khloe, Kendall and Kylie don't like it when she talks sex, Kris dished the dirt on how she's "always in the mood" for boyfriend Corey Gamble.

The so-called "Momager" revealed: "I don't know what's happening but I think there's really something wrong with me, because I'm always in the mood.

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

"My girls were giving me a hard time because I have a life and I'm a woman with hormones."

Kris added that she just can't resist Corey, 25 years her junior, who she's been dating since 2014.

"He is so sexy, always," she said.

"And all I want to do is, like, cue the music.

"Corey is with someone a lot older and I think as you get older, you're not supposed to be in the mood."

Kris's daughters have had their own fair share of relationships.

Kim is married to rapper Kanye West, with whom she shares three kids.

And Kourtney also has three little ones, with ex-boyfriend Scott Disick.

Liam fronts a fans' doorstep challenge

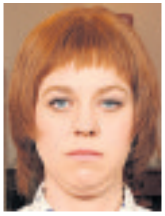
TAKE That's Mark Owen and former Oasis singer Liam Gallagher (right) are among the music stars hosting a mass doorstep singalong for Manchester on Thursday.

'Together in One Voice' will also see Tim Booth from James and Emeli Sande introduce live renditions of their music – sung by the public from their homes.

The one-off event is aimed to unite Greater Manchester and celebrate the importance of community during the pandemic lockdown.

The stars will invite people to sing along from their doorsteps, windows, balconies and streets, introducing the set-list of songs via a live stream alongside other famous faces from the world of entertainment.

Tim Booth said: "Events like these are critical right now for the community."



TV's Ellie: Don't copy Fleabag sex obsession

THE star of a new BBC sitcom has said that female television writers are all expected to be "sex-obsessed" – like Fleabag.

The Other One is a female-fronted comedy series, set to air from June 5, and features two long-lost sisters who only find out they are related after the death of their bigamist father.

Ellie White (above), who played Princess Beatrice in The Windsors, said that while there is now more interest in female writers, they were for a time pigeonholed after the success of Phoebe Waller-Bridge's popular series.

She told the Radio Times: "I remember when Fleabag first came out. I'd be pitching a show and I'd say 'I'm writing a show based on a 19th-century farm' and they'd go, 'OK, but you could be a sex addict and talk to the camera…'

"Fleabag was amazing, but we don't need another one. If you try to re-create something, it's going to be shit."

House hunters back in force as market reopens

HOUSE hunting jumped 88 per cent across England as the market reopened earlier this month, according to a property website.

Zoopla said the weekly increase occurred between May 12 and May 19.

The website said demand rebounded particularly quickly in cities along the south coast and in northern England.

Portsmouth and Southampton are registering a bounce in demand, with strong growth also recorded in Newcastle and Leeds.

Oxford, Liverpool and Manchester also had increases in demand.

Zoopla said research among 2,000 people found around 60% of would-be buyers across the UK intend to go ahead with their plans.

Couple filmed bonking at underground station

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A RANDY couple boldly took advantage of the almost-empty New York subway system to have SEX on the platform.

A nearly minute-long recording, filmed by an onlooker from across the tracks, appears to show a man and woman in the throes of passion on the platform of the Flushing Avenue station in Brooklyn.

The man's railway orgasm was even captured on the steamy clip.

Lewd

The witness is heard saying: "Yeah, I don't care, I don't mind that shit, that shit is like PornHub to me.

"This is New York City, you see everything, you hear! Oh, he came. He fking came.

"I can't even concentrate with shit like this. Have a good one, bro."

In a bid to stop the spread of coronavirus, authorities in New York have contracted more cleaners, rolled out virus-killing ultraviolet lamps and even taken the step of suspending services overnight.

Asked about the lewd public display of affection, the subway said they took pride in the cleanliness of its stations – but still discouraged people from bonking on the underground.

"We are proud the subways are as clean as they've ever been, but no need to try them out like these geniuses," said spokesman Tim Minton.

"Glad we announced our ultraviolet disinfecting pilot yesterday, because we are going to need it on this platform."

LOCKDOWN BRITS SET FOR BONKATHON

BRITAIN is braced for a BONKATHON as lockdown is lifted and gagging-for-it gals make up for lost legover time.

Experts say that strict social-distancing rules have led to a huge head of sex steam building up – and that will be released in coming weeks as restrictions are eased.

The good news comes as a recent survey shows the average number of dates before sex happens has gone down from three to 2.5 times in the last 10 years.

By SUZIE SHELDON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

More than half of singles (54%) said they would sleep with a new partner on the first date if the chemistry felt right to them.

Extended

If the deadline is extended to the second date, then 63% would have expected to have sex in a new relationship by then.

Only 24% of singles think you should wait until the third date before sleeping with someone new.

And 9% think you should wait longer than three dates before consummating a new relationship.

The results were revealed in a new poll of 2,000 adults by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading affairs site.

It found that 84% of those questioned would have a relationship with someone who had slept with them on the first date.

A spokeswoman said: "The old three-date rule, whereby new couples were supposed to wait three dates before having sex – to show that they are not 'easy' – seems so old-fashioned these days since the whole dating scene went digital and was transformed.

"Who really wants to wait that long for sex when you can go on five new dates in a week?

"Couples are deciding to go for it straight away if the chemistry is right.

"I think the whole COVID-19 crisis will accelerate this process.

"When social distancing stops and regular dating resumes, you are going to see lots more couples having sex on the first date.

"We will have all lived through the worst crisis since the Second World War and daters will want to seize the moment and not hang about when it comes to sex."

IllicitEncounters.com is enjoying the busiest year in its 17-year history and has seen a 15% increase in dating activity in the last two months.

Lots of people are dating online while stuck at home and also starting new affairs, despite the restrictions.

The site also found that 20% of daters had broken lockdown for sex.

HELP THE HOOKERS!

Sex worker in topless street protest

A BUSTY sex worker took to the streets to demand more help for hookers who are struggling to make ends meet during the lockdown.

Andrea Garcia Garrera (right) drew a small crowd of reporters and police with her shouts of: "Prostitutes have the right to eat, too!"

Revealing

She said she has survived the past few weeks by living off savings, adding: "I'm here revealing myself so that the whole world knows that prostitutes need to eat, we need to pay our mortgages and lights and water bills, and that no-one is helping us."

Andrea was one of thousands of people who marched in Madrid at the weekend to protest at the country's ongoing restrictions.

Spain has had one of the tightest lockdown regimes in Europe and has suffered around 27,000 deaths.

Deaths drop to lowest level in six weeks

THE number of deaths involving coronavirus in the UK reached its lowest weekly level for six weeks in May, new figures show.

There were 4,210 deaths involving Covid-19 registered in the week ending May 15, according to the most recent data from the Office for National Statistics (ONS).

The percentage of deaths involving Covid-19 and the total number of excess deaths compared with the five-year average continued to decrease.

But the total number of deaths from all causes rose by 1,916 to 14,573 – with an increase in deaths being registered after a dip during the early May bank holiday.

For the first time, deaths in care homes accounted for more than half of the total number of deaths with Covid-19.

Feel the heat – but keep your distance!

PEOPLE are being reminded to carry on social distancing as more fine weather tempts Britons outside.

As lockdown restrictions continue to be eased, crowds flocked to beauty spots on Bank Holiday Monday, raising concerns in some areas.

With schools – which have been operating online classes – in England, Scotland and Wales on a half-term break this week, large numbers of people are expected to emerge from lockdown to enjoy the warm weather.

Hundreds of people took to Bournemouth beach on Monday – prompting a tweet from the local council reminding people there were "other less busy but equally lovely open spaces to enjoy".

Survivors urged to give blood plasma – and save lives

HEALTH officials have sent out a rallying call to Covid-19 survivors to donate their blood plasma.

Preliminary research suggests three groups of patients have plasma which has the most potential to save lives.

They are patients over the age of 35, male Covid-19 survivors and patients who were ill enough to need hospital treatment.

A major trial is assessing whether convalescent plasma donations can be transfused into patients who are struggling to develop their own immune response.

The plasma from former patients is rich in the antibodies that develop as a person recovers from an illness.

Hitler's pet alligator is dead at 84

ADOLF Hitler's "pet alligator" has died of old age in Russia – at a mind-boggling 84.

Moscow Zoo announced: "Yesterday morning, our Mississippi alligator Saturn died of old age. He was about 84 years old – an extremely respectable age."

American alligators typically only live until 50 and only one other – Muja, at Belgrade Zoo in Serbia – is known to have reached his 80s.

Saturn had the most reported life for alligators after his birth in Mississippi in 1936.

He was soon gifted to Berlin Zoo and escaped when it was destroyed by bombing in 1943 – when only 100 of the zoo's 3,500 animals were understood to have survived.

He was missing for three years until he was found by British soldiers in 1946 – sparking the wildest theory in his biography.

"Almost immediately, the myth was born that he was allegedly in the collection of Hitler and not in the Berlin Zoo," the Moscow Zoo said.

Strip club plan branded 'squalid and degrading'

FEMINIST busybodies have demanded a council block the opening of a new strip club, claiming it would "provoke danger to women and children".

Solo Summers is set to open in the old Embassy Suite building in Colchester, Essex.

The final hurdle to pass is a licence application – for the premises to offer pole dancing, lap dancing and strip tease – which must be approved by Colchester Council.

The man behind the project, Ian Saunders, has promised the venue will not be sordid.

But Kim Cullen, chairwoman of the North Essex Women's Equality Party, moaned: "This squalid form of so-called entertainment is a throwback to a past when women were more regularly humiliated and degraded."

Farm worker brought poppers to meeting with a 'boy'

HAMSTER SHOW JUDGE CAUGHT IN TEEN SEX STING

NOT FOR JUDGING: Hamster 'model'

A HAMSTER-loving farm labourer was trapped by police after he tried to meet a 14-year-old boy for sex in a McDonald's car park.

Anthony Tancock, 61, exchanged a week-long stream of online messages on a gay dating app with a user who he thought was a 14-year-old schoolboy called Harry.

But the "boy" was an undercover cop and Tancock was arrested after driving to a pre-arranged meeting place at the Marsh Barton branch of the burger chain in Exeter.

He was found with condoms in his car and a liquid thought to be the gay sex stimulant poppers.

Tancock, of Crediton, mid Devon, admitted attempting to meet a child following grooming and arranging or facilitating a child sex offence.

Condoms

Prosecutor Robert Yates told Exeter Crown Court an undercover officer set up the online profile of a boy called Harry on the Fab Guys website and Tancock made contact on February 22 this year.

Tancock's messages became sexualised despite Harry making clear he was only 14.

He suggested picking up the boy "for car sex".

Tancock arranged a meeting at McDonald's in Marsh Barton at 3.15pm on March 6.

MEETING PLACE: McDonald's

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

His messages had suggested they should take part in penetrative sex and police arrested him with condoms and a substance, thought to be poppers, in his car.

Defending, James Rickard said Tancock has spent his entire life living at home with his parents and has no sexual experience. His main interest in life is judging hamster shows.

Tancock was handed a two-year suspended sentence and sent on a sex offenders treatment programme.

He was also put on the sex offenders' register for 10 years and made subject of a Sexual Harm Prevention Order for the same period.

It bans contact with children and allows the police to monitor his online activity.

SHE may be OFF the Queen's Christmas card list but Meghan Markle has made it ON to a list of the horniest TV shows ever.

In her pre-princess days, actress Meg starred in the Yank TV show Suits – which has been declared one of the raunchiest-ever shows.

Viewers who watched while hooked up to a heart rate monitor saw their pulses rise by 12 beats per minute.

The US legal drama, which is on Netflix, was just one of the steamy shows that got participants in a new study the most excited.

Psychotherapist Neil Wilkie says: "Sex scenes are becoming more frequent and more graphic.

Sizzling

"In the UK we have awoken from prudishness and want to see passion and intimacy."

The research for online marketplace OnBuy.com was carried out on 1,800 UK participants who had an average resting heart rate of 81 beats per minute (BPM).

They each wore a Fitbit activity tracker to measure their pulse.

Between watching sex scenes, the participants rested so their heartbeats could return to normal.

Here are the top five sizzling shows that made viewers' tickers go quicker and the average heart rate for each one...

ATTACK OF THE CANNIBAL DEATH RATS!

Starving rodents 'will eat sleeping humans' warning

ONCE the virus has passed it won't just be economic catastrophe that we'll have to deal with...

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

We'll also be in a life-and-death struggle with vast plagues of CANNIBAL DEATH RATS that could rip out our throats as we sleep.

That's the warning from boffins who say the lockdown has made the needle-toothed vermin bolder – and deadlier than ever.

The respected US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention said that with humans all stuck inside under stay-at-home orders, rats and other rodents have become much more aggressive while scavenging for food.

Aggressive

And they could be ready to unleash a wave of "aggressive rodent behaviour" on an unsuspecting public as society begins to reopen.

"Community-wide closures have led to a decrease in food available to rodents, especially in dense commercial areas," the CDC said.

"Some jurisdictions report an increase in rodent activity as rodents search for new sources of food.

"Environmental health and rodent control programs may see an increase in service requests related to rodents and reports of unusual or aggressive rodent behaviour."

The CDC is urging residents and restaurant owners to seal up holes where the hungry rats could get inside.

Urban rats struggled to find food during the lockdown and in some cases even resorted to rodent cannibalism.

Bobby Corrigan, an urban rodentologist, said. "The adults are killing the young in the nest and cannibalising the pups."

Another rodent boffin said: "If there's any other food source available, the rats will eat it – and that food source could be YOU as you sleep in your bed."

HORNY Holly Gibbons once chatted with a fella on Facebook – and was SHAGGING him in his car within hours.

Holly, 29, from Brighton, found the courage to message her college crush on social media and later on enjoyed bonking him in his motor.

The 32E beauty said: "I was out with the girls and talking about lads we used to fancy in college.

Flirting

"I remembered this guy I secretly had a massive crush on, so that night I went on Facebook and found him.

"We started chatting and said we'd meet up. We met in a pub and he said he'd always fancied the arse off me.

"After a lot of flirting we were so turned on we decided to go for a drive. We pulled the car over and ended up bonking on the back seat."

She added: "No chance of doing that at the moment with this bloody lockdown!"

AMERICAN FOOTBALL HUNK WHINES: PLANE GIRL FELT MY WILLY!

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

A BURLY American footballer has launched a lawsuit against an airline, claiming a drug-addled woman felt his cock in a flight from hell.

The unnamed NFL athlete, identified as John Doe 1 in court papers, said his ordeal began shortly after the red-eye United Airlines flight departed Los Angeles for Newark Liberty International Airport.

He said the woman, also unidentified, appeared "dishevelled and unbalanced" when she boarded the February 10 flight and took her window seat next to him in the economy plus section.

She allegedly began sexually assaulting the pro footballer, who was seated in the middle seat, by "massaging" his knees and thighs, says the lawsuit filed in Los Angeles Superior Court.

A second man seated in the same row, who is also suing as John Doe 2, complained to crew members – but they allegedly ignored him, the suit claims.

Groping

The complaint details both John Does as African Americans – the professional athlete living in New Jersey and the second man residing in Philadelphia.

The two men did not know each other prior to the flight, their lawyers said.

"Fearful of the perception of being a male victim and the racial stigma of being a young African American male, John Doe 1 patiently pleaded for assailant to stop and removed her hand," the suit says.

But the alleged sexual assault of John Doe 1 only "intensified" – with the woman "grabbing and groping his quads and then stroking her hand across his lap towards the inside of his leg near his genitals", the complaint says.

She also allegedly grabbed his penis and ripped off the face mask he was wearing, presumably to ward off the coronavirus, the lawsuit states.

When he got up to complain to a flight attendant, the woman turned her attention on John Doe 2, grabbing his leg and "groin area".

She was eventually removed to another row – after allegedly admitting she was drinking and had popped pills.

Both men said that 25 minutes into the flight, they witnessed the woman downing prescription pills that caused her to become "intoxicated", according to the suit.

The victims were given $150 vouchers for their troubles.

Lawyers Benjamin Azizian and Darren Darwish are seeking punitive damages and compensation for the two men.

"Accountability and responsibility are at the core of our justice system," they said.

"We seek to hold accountable those who have harmed our clients through their direct or indirect actions."

'Shoot me' Tinder killer begs police

A PSYCHO accused of choking and stabbing a woman after meeting her on dating app Tinder asked police to shoot him after reporting the killing.

Ethan Hunsaker, 24, was arrested on suspicion of murder in the death of the 25-year-old woman.

He'd called emegency services to report he'd killed someone at his home and begged cops to shoot him when they arrived on the scene in Layton, Utah.

Police said they found the woman dead with multiple stab wounds.

Hunsaker told police they'd gone to a bar after meeting on Tinder and then went to his home, where he choked and then stabbed her unprovoked.

'FK HER IN PUSSY' SCARE FOR TV BABE

A MAN was arrested after allegedly grabbing a TV reporter during a live broadcast and yelling "fk her right in the pussy".

Reporter Gaynor Hall was giving a weather update when the brazen creep suddenly ran into the frame, grabbed her shoulders and shouted the obscene phrase, footage shows.

Police nabbed 20-year-old Eric Farina (below) in connection with the incident and he was charged with battery and disorderly conduct.

The Shorewood, Illinois, force said: "Farina grabbed the reporter around her shoulders and uttered a profane and disturbing statement."

They added that Farina confessed and was released on bail.

Following the arrest, Hall wrote a message to her supporters on Facebook, thanking them and saying she was "OK."

Blonde humped inmate FIVE times, say bosses

A FEMALE prison officer has been accused of having sex with an inmate FIVE TIMES while the lag was locked up.

Melissa Goodwin, 25, has been arrested over the alleged romance with the lag.

Police claim she romped with the inmate at the Metropolitan Remand and Reception Centre in Sydney, Australia.

Goodwin, who was stood down from her role last month, also allegedly smuggled in tobacco, cigarette lighters and chewing gum to the prisoner.

She was charged with public office misconduct and engaging in a relationship with an inmate.

Earlier this year, Goodwin posed happily alongside two fellow prison officers on the front cover of the Corrective Services New South Wales magazine.

Tip-off

Detective Inspector Robert Hollows said the alleged crime was uncovered after a tip-off from Corrective Services NSW.

"We received some information in relation to an inappropriate relationship between a female officer and a male inmate," said DI Hollows.

"We have confirmed that there has been correspondence between this female officer and the inmate and, as a result, she was taken to Campbelltown Police Station and charged.

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

"The allegation is that there were five separate sexual incidents.

"Also, there was an allegation of contraband being taken into the centre – that being tobacco, lighters and chewing gum."

Detective Inspector Hollows said police have a "zero tolerance" on relationships between inmates and corrective services employees.

Goodwin had already been suspended over her relationship with rapper Caleb Valeri, a former prison inmate.

The pair are believed to be dating, though it is not suggested their relationship began prior to Valeri's release from prison.

Corrective services workers are required to inform their employer of relationships of any nature they have with former inmates.

She'll give you a Demi on!

DISHY Demi Rose continued her lockdown as she played with her beloved pet dog, Ted.

The model, 25, first posted a topless snap, cradling Ted, captioning it: "Ted and I. A love story in the city!"

In the photo for Fashion Nova, Demi wore rainbow stickers over her chesticles, sporting nothing but a short skirt and matching sun hat.

She set pulses racing once again as she shared a racy photo in black lace lingerie.

The social media sensation left almost nothing to the imagination as she showcased her famous curves while lying on the bed.

One fan said: "I wish she would snuggle up to me. Some sex wee has just come out."

Guard nicked for sex on car during a shift

A SECURITY guard was nicked after he was spotted bonking a woman over his patrol car on a night shift.

Nathan Travino, 28 (above), was nicked after cops saw him and a woman "engaged in sexual activity" on CCTV in the early hours.

According to police in Austin, Texas, they saw a Hispanic male with long shaggy hair having sexual intercourse with a black female.

The Hispanic male was wearing a security guard patrol uniform and was armed, and the pair were observed to have sexual relations outside his vehicle in the open.

When officers arrived at the scene both parties had gone, but they were able to track the number plate of the vehicle and contacted the security company who owned it.

When Travino went down to the station, police identified him as the suspect and he was subsequently placed under arrest for public lewdness.

He also admitted having sex in an alleyway.

Parrot to be witness in a murder trial

PROSECUTORS in a rape and murder case are planning to use evidence given by the victim's PARROT as evidence against her alleged attackers.

Miguel Saturnino Rolon, 51, and Jorge Raul Alvarez, 62, are due to go on trial for the 2018 rape and murder of 46-year-old Elizabeth Toledo in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

As part of evidence submitted in the case last week, police included a statement from an officer who claims he heard Toledo's parrot squawking "no, please, let me go" at the scene.

The cop believes the parrot was repeating what prosecutors will say were the victim's last words.

The evidence also includes a bite mark from the victim's forearm which they say matches the bite of Rolon's teeth.

BRITS are getting NUDER – and that's OFFICIAL!

And it's all down to the lockdown.

People stuck at home during the pandemic often decide to wear few – or no – clothes and British Naturism are reporting a 100 per cent increase in its membership.

Just look at last Saturday – when thousands of Brits went bare for the Great British Take Off 2020!

Liberated

The event – an initiative from British Naturism, the UK's organisation for naturists and naturist places – saw people all around the country stripping down to nothing to "enjoy the liberated and exhilarating feeling that comes from being naked in the sun and fresh air".

A BN spokesman said: "People have always enjoyed the thrill of a skinny dip or the relaxation of a spa, but social isolation has caused an explosion in naked living.

"For many, working from home means working naked, and nude sunbathing seems to be the new national pastime.

"Naturists know that it's only social convention that makes wearing clothes seem essential but people who try it for the first time realise that it feels great."

To celebrate, here's five pages of undraped ladies…

MONSTERS OF DEATH ROW

THE WORLD'S MOST EVIL MURDERERS AND THE HORRIFIC CRIMES THAT SAW THEM SENTENCED TO EXECUTION...

THE NINJA ASSASSINS

SICK Leonard Gonzalez was a karate instructor on a mission for mayhem. But it'll take more than a few kicks and chops to break the bars that now cage him on Death Row...

GUN KILLER: Gonzalez

GENEROUS Byrd Billings, 66, and his wife Melanie, 43, didn't deserve the terrible fate that befell them.

The wealthy couple, who owned a string of businesses in Escambia County, Florida, devoted their lives to helping others.

They had four children of their own, yet they took in a further 12 adopted kids – all with special needs – in a bid to give them a life filled with love and joy.

But the happiness in the Billings home was shattered forever on the night of July 9, 2009.

Callous

Evil martial arts expert Leonard Gonzalez rounded up a posse of ninja assassins and invaded the Billings home, seeking jewels hidden in a locked safe.

When the heist went horribly wrong, poor Byrd and Melanie were gunned down in front of nine of their terrified, cowering and vulnerable adopted children.

It was a callous, heartbreaking act that deserved justice to match.

By JUSTIN DUNN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

So when ringleader Gonzalez was sentenced to death in February 2011, few mourned his fate.

Judge Nickolas Geeker slammed his actions, saying the Billingses would have died believing their children would also be murdered.

Mercifully, those children – who have disabilities ranging from Down's syndrome to foetal alcohol syndrome and cerebral palsy – were unharmed.

Judge Geeker told Gonzalez: "They would have assumed their minor children would not have been left behind as witnesses."

State attorney Bill Eddins added: "Leonard Patrick Gonzalez is the man who had his hand on the gun and his finger on the trigger.

"He is the man who fired the shots that killed Mr and Mrs Billings.

"This defendant had every opportunity in life. He had a good, loving mother who provided him with love, support and positive direction. He had a loving wife who put up with his addiction to painkillers and his inability to make a living.

SO GENEROUS: Byrd and Melanie took in 12 kids with special needs

"This man knew, beyond every shadow of a doubt, how to respect people. He taught children to have respect for others and to have integrity."

Gonzalez, a father of six, had once run a karate school with this wife Tabitha.

Ironically, the pair even laid on self-defence classes for women and children called FightBack.

Gonzalez, a bona fide black belt, had been interviewed by the local press about the way he was equipping kids with the skills to beat bullies.

He told one reporter: "Our goal is to get to the children first and educate them in their rights."

But behind the scenes, the karate school was failing.

By July 2009, the business had closed its doors for good and Gonzalez was struggling financially.

He and Tabitha got jobs at a local antiques firm, while his mother, Terri Poff, was helping them pay the bills.

CRIME SCENE: Victims' luxury property

Gonzalez showed up at the Billings home, where he attempted to talk Byrd – a renowned local entrepreneur who ran several successful car dealerships – into putting his money in the karate school so they could open up shop again.

Byrd politely declined the offer, warning that it represented to him a "bad investment".

Generosity

But, ever the gentleman, he wrote a cheque for $5,000 in a bid to keep the self-defence project going.

It was an act of complete generosity – but Gonzalez seethed at the perceived snub.

He was convinced Byrd kept close to $13m worth of jewels and cash in a locked safe on the property.

He set about recruiting a small army to go and get it, with each thug promised a cut of the haul.

One way or another, Gonzalez was going to get his "investment" from Billings.

Those recruits were Donnie Stallworth, Wayne Coldiron, Frederick Thornton, Rakeem Florence, Gary Sumner, Pamela Long-Wiggins and Gonzalez's own father, Leonard Patrick Gonzalez Snr, who acted as a getaway driver.

The team hatched a plan to perform a 'pincer movement' on the property, with half the gang entering the front of the house and the other half storming the back, ensuring that the Billingses had nowhere to run.

Gonzalez equipped every team member with a black 'ninja' uniform, as well pistols, shotguns and an AK-47 machine gun.

Court documents reveal what happened during the ambush. They state: "Gonzalez accosted Mr Billings and demanded to know where the money was located.

IN FRIDAY'S

EVIL: Gonzalez and (left) the gang of crooks he put together to rob the Billings family

LOVING COUPLE: Byrd and Melanie

"When Mr Billings replied that he did not have any money, Gonzalez fired a shot into the floor.

"Gonzalez repeated the same question and received the same reply from Mr Billings.

"Gonzalez then shot Mr Billings in the leg.

Response

"And when Gonzalez repeated the question a third time – receiving the same response – he shot Mr Billings in the other leg.

"Gonzalez then led the Billingses into the master bedroom. While Thornton retrieved duffel bags from the van outside, he heard three more shots.

"When he returned to the bedroom, he saw Mr Billings lying face down on the floor in a pool of blood.

"Gonzalez then asked Mrs Billings to open the safe in the closet of the bedroom.

"Thornton then saw Gonzalez fire the gun again."

Poor Byrd and Melanie died horrific deaths.

The police files state: "The Billingses both died from multiple gunshot wounds.

"Mr Billings was shot five times – in both legs, the left cheek and twice in the back of the head.

"The two leg wounds would have been survivable. The cheek wound have been survivable for a few minutes until the victim drowned in his own blood.

"The two head wounds were inflicted close together, based on the similar angles and positions of the wounds. They were each fatal.

"Mrs Billings was shot four times – once in the face, once in the head and twice in the chest. All of her wounds were fatal.

"The first shot to her face would have rendered her unconscious. The other shots were inflicted as she lay on her back on the floor."

The court heard truly gut-wrenching evidence about the experiences of the children, too.

The couple's grown-up daughter, Ashley Markham, said one of the young adopted boys, named Jake, had raised the alarm.

Ashley revealed: "I had a missed call from my mum. I called back and Jake answered the phone.

"He wasn't saying anything, he was just screaming. I was asking if he could just let me talk to Mum and Dad."

Another one of the children, Adrianna, ran from the home and alerted a neighbour, nurse April Spencer.

April told the jury: "As I was walking toward the staircase I could see drops of blood.

"Melanie's son – he's 10 years old and he's got Down's Syndrome – he was standing in the living room and pointing to his mum and dad's bedroom.

Lying

"I went in. Byrd was lying in front of the dresser, face down. It looked like he had been shot in the head.

"Melanie was lying in front of the closet, face up."

According to a sheriff's report, the 10-year-old had been sleeping with Byrd and Melanie at the time.

The report stated: "He heard a knock on the door and then 'two bad men' said, 'You're going to die – one, two, three', and then, 'No way, no way'."

The child witness said his dad grabbed the neck of one of the gunmen and that his mum "got shot in her shirt".

It took until July 12 – three days after the murders – before Gonzalez and his posse were rounded up.

They'd been clinical in the execution of their sick plan, getting in and out of the house, with the safe, in less than 10 minutes.

But the safe they stole was virtually worthless – and, crucially, they'd made clumsy errors.

Fingerprints were found belonging to Long-Wiggins, while Gonzalez aroused suspicion by telling a friend: "If anyone asks, you haven't seen me."

Thornton eventually testified against his co-accusers, scoring a reduced prison sentence.

Only Gonzalez who protested his innocence.

Penalty

While the others escaped with life terms, he received the death penalty.

After the sentencing, Ashley Markham, said: "My mother always told me some people grow up wanting to be doctors or lawyers or teachers.

"She just wanted to be a mummy.

"Her lifelong dream was loving her babies and being a voice for them."

DOG SEX MUM IS SNARED BY HER CAR RADIO

MURDER CHARGE: Snyder

A MOTHER accused of having sex with her pet pit bull before hanging her children could be convicted with evidence from her car's stereo system.

The in-car infotainment may yield clues lost with Lisa Snyder's Samsung Galaxy Note 9 phone, which vanished before she was arrested for bestiality and murder.

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Investigators believe that phone may have connected to Snyder's car radio Bluetooth, meaning the vehicle could hold potentially incriminating evidence.

They hope that could include order details of a dog leash Snyder allegedly used to hang son Conner, eight, and daughter Brinley, four, at their home in Berks County, Pennsylvania, in September 2019.

Joked

Police believe Snyder 'intentionally destroyed or discarded' the phone after she 'joked' to a pal about cops looking for her phone.

While investigating her children's deaths, police reportedly found a photo of Snyder having sex with her pit bull, including images of the pet performing a sex act on her.

Snyder is said to have given live updates of the bestiality, telling an unidentified Facebook user: 'He's eating my pussy daddy…He keeps moving every time the flash goes off.'

She allegedly sent a photo of one of the sex acts to the man she was chatting with.

Snyder denies the charges she faces and claims Conner killed Brinley before taking his own life because he was bullied.

Snyder reportedly used Conner's Google account to search for information on death by hanging and also looked up TV shows about how to get away with murder.

She is due to appear in court on June 29.

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

I'VE had to stop myself from watching Sky News in the morning.

Having politics explained to me by fat, red socks and moccasin-wearing, dandruff-drifted, Jabba the Hut lookalike, oily-haired, crackly-lipped Labour party political broadcaster Adam Boulton has just become too much to bear.

TOXIC DOM HAS TO GO!

JUST imagine if the bloke who invented the slogan "clunk, click, every trip" was nicked for not wearing a seat belt?

He'd rightly be out on his arse – as PM Boris Johnson's chief advisor Dominic Cummings should be, too.

He doesn't cut a sympathetic figure at the best of times and grovelling to journalists in the garden behind No.10 added nothing to improve that.

But governments always bugger up. The politicians who seek or even attain that power always do.

Think of the Conservatives' Margaret Thatcher – the Milk Snatcher, the union ruiner, the Poll Tax.

Think of Labour's Tony Blair and his horrible henchman Alastair Campbell approving the death of thousands in Iraq, on the unhappy grounds of sexed-up so-called "evidence" – and walking away from it all absolutely scot-free.

Think Lib Dem Nick Clegg solemnly promisingly pre-election to scrap all uni student fees and then, somehow inexplicably in power, voting to actually RAISE them instead.

Think ex-UKIP boss Nigel Farage, who has stood to be an MP almost as many times as the Monster Raving Loony Party and always failed in that endeavour.

Think of Caroline Lucas, the finger wagging Green Party headmistress, whose answer to everything is more taxes to help woefully ignored woodlice.

Think Ian Blackford, leader of the Scottish National Party in Westminster – or actually, no, don't, unless you're into stuffed, repetitive, overfed parrots dressed in ridiculously ill-fitting suits.

And then of course think of Boris Johnson, the actual Prime Minister – currently struggling to stay afloat in an overflowing swimming pool of shit that is not entirely his own.

His right-hand man Dominic Cummings should have heard the No.10 door slamming firmly behind him last Friday evening when it first emerged that he'd driven 260 miles to see his parents.

SO, from next week, we can all go out and buy a car.
Who gives a toss?
WE WANT A PINT!

Toast

The very moment we knew that the man widely acknowledged with creating the slogan "stay home, save lives, protect the NHS" had completely ignored, well… all of those things, he should have been toast.

There's an old adage that when the advisor becomes the story, he exits stage left.

Rightly so.

That it has left Boris floundering like a salmon beneath the hungry jaws of a grizzly bear is, for many, the cherry on the cake.

Snake gets cobra to kill off his wife

A MAN has been arrested for allegedly murdering his wife by letting loose a killer cobra snake in her room after first failing with a deadly viper.

Police say phone records showed the man, called Sooraj had been in contact with serpent handlers and had also watched snake videos on the internet.

Sooraj, 27, got hold of a highly venomous Russell's viper in March which bit his wife Uthra and left her in hospital for almost two months, police said.

Uthra was still recuperating at her parents' house earlier this month when Sooraj obtained a cobra from a snake handler and threw it at his sleeping wife. She was bitten twice and was dead by the morning.

A police statement in the southern state of Kerala, India, said: "The couple had received a large amount of gold and money when they married but Sooraj feared that divorcing Uthra would mean giving it all back, so he decided to kill her."

Razor attacker blames stress of coronavirus

A MAN accused of assaulting two women with a razor blamed coronavirus stress for the "unprovoked" attack, police said.

Eric Keith Mitchell, 39, was arrested in the car park of a supermarket where he allegedly attacked the women as they were leaving.

Mitchell, who was armed with a craft knife, was taken into custody by a cop who was on patrol nearby.

At the station, he claimed he was worked up by the killer plague.

"Mitchell cited stress from COVID-19 concerns as the precipitating factor for the unprovoked attacks," Athens, Georgia, police said in a statement.

The victims were seriously injured during the incident and were taken to a hospital.

Perv Sir begs judge for castration

EVIL URGES: Lua

By JUSTIN DUNN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A PAEDO teacher begged to be CASTRATED to stop his evil urges and escape jail – but was turned down.

Instead, Mark Ryan Lua was sentenced to 12 years in state prison, to be followed by 15 years of sexual offender probation.

The 32-year-old was also designated as a sexual offender and will have to comply with all reporting requirements for the remainder of his life.

Lua entered a plea of no contest to one count of promoting the sexual performance of a child and three counts of unlawful sexual activity with certain minors.

He had previously been employed as a teacher at Booker T Washington High School in Escambia County, Florida.

The charges were brought after an investigation beginning in January 2019, when it was discovered that Lua had been using a fake social media account.

Sexual

Under a false name, he posed as an adult female and encouraged a female student to send him a sexual video.

Lua was interviewed by detectives and eventually admitted to using the fake social media account to obtain the video from the student.

After Lua was initially arrested, additional female students came forward and testified that Lua had sex with them at his home while his wife was away.

Lua was not interviewed by cops about the additional allegations, but text messages provided by one of the students corroborated her account.

Before receiving his jail sentence from Judge Thomas Dannheisser, Lua begged to be either chemically or physically castrated.

A police source said: "This guy was like a kid in a candy shop, but unfortunately it was the kids who were the candy.

"I think the castration idea was actually a good one. But he still deserves the prison sentence, too, and probably a lot more."

Mathilde is a very cheeky girl!

INSTAGRAM babe Mathilde Tantot turned up the heat while she cooled down – by stripping totally NAKED!

The bombshell took to Instagram to share the post with her 6.6 million followers and the snap caused a storm online

The 25-year-old – who is of French and Persian descent – was photographed outdoors as she soaked up the sun.

One fan drooled: "I'd like to cover her trumper in gravy and lick it off – paying particular attention to her crack. Mmmm!"

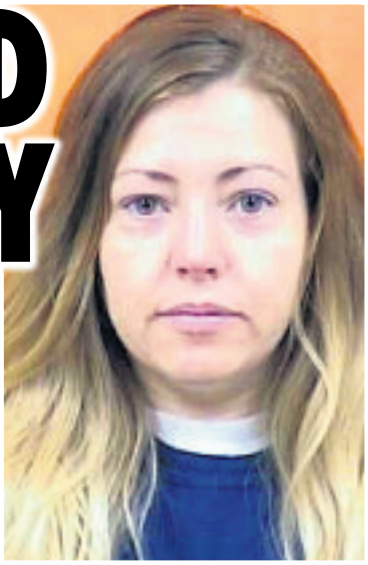
SEX MISS IS FREED EARLY



REMORSE: Arnett sent nude vids to teen

A PRETTY teacher who demanded a teenage student had sex with her in return for extra tuition has been released from prison early for good behaviour.

Mum-of-three Madalyn Arnett, 27, has served only one quarter of her sexual battery sentence.

Images

The boy student had approached her at school and asked what he could to do improve his marks.

Arnett, from Dayton, Ohio, later contacted him on social media and began conversations that were "sexual in nature."

She also sent him nude images and videos of herself.

On March 23, 2018, Arnett picked up the student near his home and drove to a nearby car park, where they had sex in her car.

She pleaded guilty to having an inappropriate sexual relationship with the student and was jailed for four years.

In December, Arnett's lawyers filed a motion for judicial release, arguing that the social studies teacher was "remorseful".

Judge Timothy Tepe granted the release earlier this month but ordered that Arnett is put on electronic monitoring and must also complete sexual offender treatment.

BROTHERS DIM

THREE brothers, aged eight, 10 and 12, were hospitalised after letting a black widow spider bite them — thinking it would turn them into Spider-Man, according to officials in Chayanta, Bolivia.

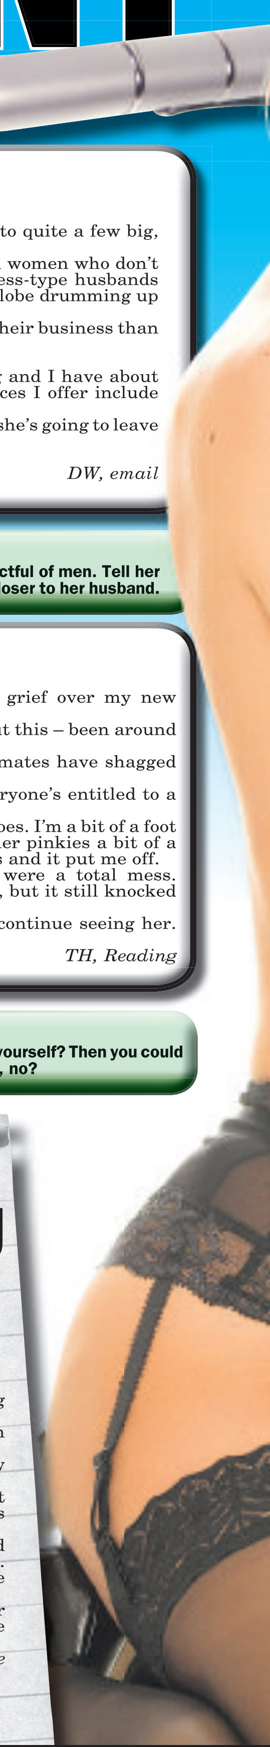
THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page



Dear Sam,

I AM a lawnmower repair man and I get around to quite a few big, posh houses.

As you can imagine, some of my clients are rich women who don't get a decent porking from their get-ahead business-type husbands who spend most of their days jetting around the globe drumming up trade for their multi-national companies.

I find most of these men are more interested in their business than they are their wives.

And that's where I come in

I try to give more than just a blade sharpening and I have about four clients on the go at any one time. The services I offer include giving them a damn good shafting, of course.

Lately, though, this old bird has been telling me she's going to leave her husband and she wants to shack up with me.

How do I tell her it's only her minge I want?

DW, email

Sam says…

YOU don't seem to be the most tactful of men. Tell her you think she needs to try to get closer to her husband.

Dear Sam,

SOME of my mates have been giving me real grief over my new girlfriend.

She's quite a good looker but she's – how do I put this – been around the block a bit.

She's 10 years older than me and most of my mates have shagged her at some time or another.

None of this really bothers me as I believe everyone's entitled to a past, and mine isn't exactly unblemished.

The thing that really bothers me though is her toes. I'm a bit of a foot man and it was only when I went down to give her pinkies a bit of a nibble that I saw she has really unkempt toenails and it put me off.

Some of them were yellow and her cuticles were a total mess. Nothing that a decent pedicure wouldn't sort out, but it still knocked me back a bit.

The thing is, I really do like her and want to continue seeing her. How do I tell her that her toes disgust, me?

TH, Reading

Sam says…

WHY don't you give her a pedicure yourself? Then you could take your love of feet a bit further, no?

Lover with a wandering eye ogles all the ladies

Dear Sam,

MY fella is forever ogling other women and it's driving me MAD!

As a couple we're really well suited and we get on in the sack like rabbits on Viagra.

He's always slipping me one and takes every opportunity he gets to ram his six-incher into me.

He says he loves me and only has eyes for me, but whenever we're out he insists on wearing dark glasses so I can't see who he's leering at.

I know just what he's up to, however. His head always turns slightly when a busty woman walks past. Oh, and he looks total idiot wearing shades after the sun's gone down.

It's beginning to affect our relationship as I never look at other blokes when we're out and I expect the same from him.How do I make him stop?

GS, Merseyside

Sam says…

LOOKING'S one thing, shagging's another. forget it.

I like to touch it while randy neighbour's missus watches

Dear Sam,

FOR the past year I've had this wonderful fantasy of shagging my next-door neighbour's hot and gorgeous wife.

She used to be blonde but changed her colour to cherry brown because I told her that it would look sexier on her.

She's in her late 30s and I'm only 19 and it all started when I saw her topless in her garden.

I obviously noticed that her tits were huge, and as she lay back in her skimpy bikini she looked very sexy.

She was sunbathing and rubbing suntan lotion into her knockers when she saw me standing there in my shorts with my cock bulging, even though I was concentrating really hard to keep it under control.

I thought she'd run off to cover up but she smiled back and said she was trying to grab her husband's attention but now she had seen how big I was, she was glad to have mine.

I told her I'd always loved older women and my fantasy was to shag her in the garden and come all over her mouth, tits and in her arse.

I thought she'd tell me to fk off but she was loving it.

But she said the time wasn't right and her husband would get suspicious if I kept trying to chat her up.

She certainly had me hooked with the promise of fulfilling my fantasy.

I caught her eye again later when I stood at my bedroom window and had a wank.

I was thrilled that she watched and squeezed her tits and slipped a hand into her bikini bottoms as I came all over the window.

It was lucky that I had a box of tissues handy to wipe it all up, but as she saw me cleaning it up, the neighbour's wife sucked her fingers and licked her lips, making me hard and ready to have another wank.

Nipples

Then one morning I came back from a run and saw her in her bedroom mirror as she applied her make-up.

She was topless and when she saw me she smiled and fondled her nipples. She invited me into her house and told me her hubby was away.

She then pulled my shorts down and started to suck my hard cock.

She was obviously experienced and knew what to do, looking into my eyes as she licked my pulsating shaft before taking the full length of my rod in her throat.

In minutes I'd spunked in her mouth and she was loving it, smiling as it dripped from her lips.

I then pulled down her skirt, bent her over the table and got my pole straight up her, riding her as she toyed with her clit and my balls until she came with a scream.

Since then we've gone back to wanking at each other through the window.

I'm desperate to fk her again but my mates think she's just stringing me along.

What do you think?

TRY to arrange another session – but don't get caught!

Amazing hotel shag after row with wife

Dear Sam,

I HAD a blazing row with the missus the other day over me not picking up my underpants, or something like that – she would not bloody stop.

So I decided to go out and get pissed in order to let her cool off a bit.

I went to a boozer on the edge of town to make sure she wouldn't be able to find me and while there I met an old girlfriend. And out of spite I suggested we carry on our intimate chat at a local Travelodge.

We booked into a room and almost immediately she pulled off her top and wriggled out of her panties before making a grab for my trousers.

I wasted no time at all and dived between her thighs to push my tongue deep into her neatly trimmed and moist fanny. She then rolled over on to her tummy and took my erect dick into her mouth right up to the hilt.

When I could stand it no longer I bent her over the bed and took her doggy-style.

And that was just for starters. She was remarkable and wanted to do things my girlfriend wouldn't.

However, she has made it clear that it was just a one-off because she has a regular fella and is getting married later this year.

When our session came to an end I dropped her off in town, which is where I made my mistake. My wife's sister saw us and spilled the beans.

Of course, she hit the roof and wants a divorce. I've tried all the lies I know to get me out of this mess but she is refusing to forgive my indiscretion.

I'm desperate to win her back because her old man's loaded and pays for our holidays. What can I do?

IR, South Yorks

Sam says…

LEARN how to defuse a row in future – and meantime book yourself a holiday for one!

Dear Sam,

I LOST my job recently and as my mate is a plumber he often needs a hand and so I got the nod for some regular work.

It's a great way to earn some extra cash and I should point out always declare what I earn.

We were on a job last week and the problem was only a leaky tap.

When I got to the house it looked a bit run down.

I knocked and a woman answered the door in her pyjamas with her long dark hair all over the place.

She looked like she'd just got out of bed after an long shagging session – but pretty soon she was having one!

She grabbed my knob without so much as a hello as soon as I was through the door.

She then dragged me upstairs and proceeded to ride my cock off all ways up.

She begged me to finish off all over her face and tits and as you can imagine I was happy to oblige, leaving her front a creamy mess.

Then my mate walked in and told me if I ever do that with a customer again he'll fire me.

What did I do wrong?

JA, email

Sam says…

I THINK he's just jealous that he didn't manage to get some, but it might be best to keep your nose – and your knob – clean from now on.

#MY SEX FANTASY

...WITH VIOLA HEALEY, 26 36E-23-34 FROM EALING W. LONDON

‘I love animalistic sex – I even did it in a graveyard once’

IT sounds awful, but I get really turned on by CHEATING.

Basically, having sex that you really shouldn’t be having gets me wetter than an otter’s pocket.

And if both of you are doing the dirty on someone, then it can be electric!

The danger of getting caught is thrilling, and all the anticipation of when you’ll get to meet up and the sneaking around helps build the tension – making the eventual release so intense.

You have to make do having your liaison wherever you can – in a car parked up in a quiet country lane or a hotel room booked for just a couple of hours.

I’ve had such animalistic, bend me over and take me now sex – I even did it in a graveyard once!

But I don’t like hurting people.

I’ve never had any serious relationships and when I do meet someone I really love, I plan to stop it and grow up!

But it will always be a great fantasy of mine.

lauren SWORTH

LUSTY Lauren Holdsworth loves to get steamy over the stove – and says she can't resist a romp in the KITCHEN.

London-born Lauren, 23, revealed a pre-dinner shag really gets her going, and she often serves herself up as the tasty dessert!

Lauren, who has 32DD boobs, said: "You could say I literally like a night on the tiles, or an afternoon for that matter.

"Sometimes I get hot when I'm cooking so I strip off to cool down.

"And I've not met a man yet that doesn't enjoy my appetisers."

Naughty Lauren said she isn't shy when it comes to showing off her pert pair to the neighbours either.

She added: "I have a huge kitchen window and I'm convinced that next door have caught me at it more than once.

"Last time I popped round to theirs to borrow a cup of sugar they complimented me on my 'marvellous jugs'."

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

ADRIANNA

PROUD Scot Iain Peacock requested a topless snap of glamour babe Adrian to keep him going throughout his long drives.

Iain, 59, is a delivery driver from Inverness and asked for a naughty look at 24-year-old Reading stunna Adrianna's 30C knockers to keep him occupied during his job.

He said: "It might be illegal to look at your mobile phone while driving but it should be illegal NOT to ogle Adrianna's perfectly pert litle boobs.

"She's an absolute scorcher and I'm gonna keep the pic in the cab – she'll definitely make those miles easier!"

GINA

SUPERMARKET assistant Liam Neem wanted a kinky picture of Czech-born Gina and we doubt he'll be disappointed with this corker.

Liam, 33, from Hull, asked for a sexy photo of 25-year-old beauty Gine, now living in Chelmsford, Essex and we've dug out this sultry snap.

Gine looks stunning in a black lingerie set, with her 36B norks exposed in her bra.

Liam said: "She's my ultimate girl!"

NAOMI RAINE

MACHINE operator Nathan Holland loves Naomi Raine's natural girl-next-door looks and reckons she's his ideal woman.

Nathan, 46, from Clitheroe, Lancs, can't get enough of 27-year-old Naomi's 32D boobs and is completely in awe of the Greenwich beauty.

He said: "She's the ideal woman – natural face, perfect boobs and just an absolute worldie of a woman.

"I don't like fake boobs – they're not for me.

"But I'd love to cop a feel of Becky's globes – they're sensational!"

BIG CHOICE: Kane needs to think about his career

TEDDY: GET READY FOR KANE TO LEAVE

By ANDY MILLOM

HARRY Kane shouldn't waste his career by staying at Spurs if the Londoners don't match the striker's ambitions.

That's the view of Teddy Sheringham who walked out of White Hart Lane to sign for Manchester United in the nineties.

He's not saying Kane should leave Tottenham but is warning him not to waste the one career he has.

Sheringham said: "You have to look at where Tottenham are and where they were when I was playing for them.

"The ambition had been sucked out of the club when I was playing for them. We weren't really going places, at least they are getting into the top four, they are challenging for things, they were in the Champions League final not so long ago.

"He has got to weigh up his situation, does he want to leave?

"Are there going to be top players coming to Tottenham to play with him or is he going to have to go to elsewhere to play with top players?

"At the moment, I would say his career at Tottenham — I know they haven't won anything — but his career has been going steadily forward.

"I think it might be at a crossroads. If they haven't won anything or they don't look like they are going forwards, then there could be changes.

"Harry has only got one career and he wants to win things. My advice would be 'you only get one career, Harry, make sure you make the most of it'."

Sheringham has also been talking about United and he believes Paul Pogba is lacking the fire it takes to be a complete midfielder.

Teddy added: "When things weren't going right in our time, Roy Keane would put things right.

"He would drive the team on, he would dig deep, he would make sure we had a say in every game played in because of his desire.

"When you look at Paul Pogba, does he have the same mentality?

"Yes, he might be a talented boy, but does he dig deep, does he get Manchester United out of the mire when the going gets tough? For me than answer is no, he gives off the wrong vibe as a Manchester United player."

ADVICE: Sheringham

IT'S NOT BUSINESS AS USUAL

WHOLE NEW BALL GAME!

Dyche warns it will be weird playing in the heat – games could be more like friendlies

By JOHN ANTHONY

IT'S football — but not as we know it.

That's the warning from Burnley boss Sean Dyche to those thinking it will be business as usual when the Premier League comes back.

Clubs are on the verge of agreeing the move to proper contact training after talks this week.

That means they can really step things up as they work towards the big kick-off.

It looks as though the hoped-for date of June 12 will come too soon but games are expected to start a week after that.

Dyche has been speaking about how he sees football looking when it does come back.

The Burnley gaffer said: "This is going to be totally different. The early games will be like the end of a pre-season.

"You cannot go into the season playing against other teams so I think that the actual games programme — the first one, two or three games — will be part of the final piece of the jigsaw whereas normally you would be looking to hit the first game as game-ready as possible.

"You might get a few odd results."

Dyche thinks it will be strange because, unlike the start of a new campaign, a lot of teams have very little to play for.

There is a rump in midtable who are too far away from the European spots and a long way off falling into the relegation picture.

Dyche thinks it's only natural that games between these sides may lack intensity with very little at stake — and no fans in the stadium to play for.

He added: "If you are Liverpool, for example, you want to finish the job.

Odd

"You want to get it done. So their motivation is really clear. But I think for the middle group and some of the lower teams it is going to be about how you come out of this period.

"You often notice that at the beginning of a season or the end of a season you get these odd results where teams are either finding their feet or just playing out the season when other teams are fighting for something.

"You can get these anomalies. That might be part of it.

"Some teams are talking about the mentality of their players with this idea that some players do not want to play.

"I think that will probably dissipate eventually but you get to that first game and how focused is everyone going to be? That may give strange results."

Clubs have been up in arms about playing at neutral venues, believing the loss of home advantage is a major handicap.

But the lack of fans seems to have been forgotten about.

Since the Bundesliga kicked off again in Germany, playing at home has proven to be more of a hindrance

UP FOR IT: Burnley boss Sean Dyche doesn't think it will be normal football when we come back than a help. Without the fans, the fear factor of going to big stadiums seems to have been removed.

The German league has seen just THREE home wins from 18 games — and Dyche thinks it could be the same over here.

Chance

He said: "Normally, when you are walking into Old Trafford there are 70,000 fans. That is bound to be different without those fans. It is just a human thing. It is just another challenge.

"You could argue that it might give teams a slightly bigger chance away from home just because there is not a house full of home fans there. But we do not know that yet.

"What the players will know is that the TV cameras will be there and there will be arguably even more people watching them than ever before through the screen.

"So there will be that feeling in the background of the game, but it will be peculiar."

But Dyche is still raring to get his Burnley side back on the pitch.

He added: "These are exceptional times and exceptional circumstances so you have to think a bit differently.

"The way I look at it, this will come down to how flexible you can be to use the time available.

"Part of the mentality to perform will be clear-mindedness. We are certainly looking for that from the players. Focus on the challenge in front of us. That is one of the things that I think will be important.

Mendy itching to get playing

MANCHESTER City defender Benjamin Mendy says he's excited about football coming back.

The Premier League is expected to resume behind closed doors next month with nine rounds of fixtures left.

There have been no matches since March and the defender is itching to get back into action.

Mendy said: "I can't wait.

"We are just waiting for the green light. Everywhere we see we are going to start on this date and that date.

"Now I wait for the guys to text us to tell us the league is going to start at this time, and we are going to be so happy.

"But I know they are going to take all the precautions when we are back. It's not like they are just going to say 'let's go play', they are going to check everything and I think that's why it takes time.

"I have missed the football but it makes you focus on the more important things. I have tried to develop myself and learn every day.

City boss Pep Guardiola has issued an upbeat report on how training has gone.

He said: "They were looking forward to coming back and to train again.

"They came back perfectly. We follow the rules, the protocol. We have to. That's the most important thing. We don't do anything special.

"The special ones are the doctors, nurses, scientists, cleaners – they put their own lives at risk to save ours."

FIT AGAIN: Gbamin

Gbamin ready to shine for Toffees

EVERTON'S forgotten man Jean-Philippe Gbamin says he should be fit when the Premier League returns.

The £25m summer buy from Mainz badly injured his thigh just the second time he pulled on a blue shirt.

Now he's back in training and believes he'll be fit to figure from the middle of next month.

He said: "It is great to be back at training with my teammates.

"I have my feeling back that I can get playing again.

"I am training with a view to playing this season if the Premier League returns.

"I feel good, fully recovered and I am ready. We are taking it slowly because it was a big injury. It was not easy but I think if the games start to be played in the Premier League then I think I can play."

Gbamin says he's just happy to be back in action having spent so much time getting back to fitness in his own home.

He added: "My day would be mixed up of gym work at home and then going for a jog in the park.

Ready

"Now we are back at Finch Farm I'm hopeful of more progress.

"My focus is to get back up to 100 per cent. I won't get there straight away because I've not had much football in my legs but that will come.

"Since my operation everything has gone well. I feel like in three or four weeks I can be back in full training and be ready to go."

Meanwhile, Everton continue to be linked with a couple of major signings whenever the transfer window opens again.

Boss Carlo Ancelotti is looking to former club Napoli and their holding midfielder Allan.

The Brazilian has been in out of the team in Italy and the Toffees gaffer has made him the No1 target.

The Toffees are hoping to do business at around the £40m mark — but Napoli are looking for closer to £70m.

Another Italy-based player, Franck Kessie, is also in Ancelotti's sights.

The Ivory Coast midfielder moved from AC Milan to Atalanta last season but is reportedly keen on moving to Goodison Park.

RORY RYDER CUP WORRY

RORY McIlroy thinks the Ryder Cup will have to be postponed for 12 months.

The match is due to be played in Whistling Straits, Wisconsin, at the end of September.

But the world no1 thinks that is optimistic.

He said: “My personal hunch is that I don’t see how it is going to happen, so I do not think that it will happen.

“The majority of players would like to see it pushed back until 2021 so they can play in front of crowds and have the atmosphere that makes the Ryder Cup so special.

“The players are the ones that make the Ryder Cup. If they are not on board and don’t want to play then there is no Ryder Cup. I see it being pushed back until 2021 and, honestly, I think that will be the right call.”

OLE’S REDS UP FOR IT!

United boys can’t wait says Solskjaer

By JOHN ANTHONY

OLE Gunnar Solskjaer says his Manchester United players are revved up for the big kick-off.

It looks ever more certain that the Premier League will be back next month.

And Ole’s Reds are full of beans. He said: “They’ve not had many days off!

“The last couple of weeks they’ve been really stepping it up.

“That’s what you do when you’re a footballer, you just want to play football.

“Of course, the first step now has been coming together, obviously in small groups, but they’ve enjoyed that.

“I think when we start training in full groups, of course we need a bit of time to gel again, but they’re mentally ready and physically they look okay too.”

And Solskjaer has been boosted by the return to fitness of Paul Pogba and Marcus Rashford.

Both stars had injury problems before lockdown but will be back as United push for a place in the Champions League.

The Norwegian added: “They’re looking good. They’ve joined training now and they’ve done everything the other boys have been doing. There’s been no reaction so far, touch wood.

“When we get started, it looks like we can have a full squad to choose from.”
